

Josh Gaita, owner/operator of Chick-fil-A on Plank Road, moved to Spotsylvania County in 2005. Currently living in the Chancellor District with his family of five, Josh is involved in the community through his church, business and voluntary roles during election cycles.

Josh grew up in Yorktown and after high school attended Christopher Newport University in Newport News, Virginia. After graduating with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration in 2004, the pursuit of becoming a business owner began. At the age of 22, Josh relocated with his wife, Chelsea, to the Spotsylvania area to become a Chick-fil-A franchisee.

Josh and Chelsea currently have three children: Reese, Sydney and May.
